EagleEyeOne Magazine has been publishing holistic-based printed products for over 12 years and we believe now is the time to release this dual directory.

With the growing acceptance and popularity of alternative therapies, people are seeking more natural paths to wellness. This directory will be a resource guide to browse and discover the many services we have available year round.

The directory will be updated on a yearly basis in an 8 1/2 X 11 easy-to-read format. Each "discipline/service" listing will have a brief description, followed by locations from individual listings.

Display ads are available, although the proportion will be far less than the actual number of listings. Therefore, the placement of display ads will be done on a first come, first served basis.

To reserve your ad call Karen at (250) 722-2151, 753-7070 or E: directory@EAGLEyeONE.com or www.EAGLEyeONE.com.

As an advertiser - you can choose to receive printed copies to pass out to your customers. People will also find them at a host of distribution locations, such as: • health related retail locations • bus / ferry depots • community centres / colleges / universities • coffee shops and stores • shows and special events • wellness centres and practitioners offices...
