

PLUTO on the Galactic Center . . .

Discovered in 1930, Pluto is the smallest, outermost, and slowest moving planet of our solar system, taking 246 years to complete one rotation.

Pluto is the ruler of Scorpio and the 8th house. It rules the subconscious, the unconscious, secrecy, sex, death, the underworld, law & order, destruction and reconstruction, the occult, renewal, kundalini energy, regeneration, rebirth, transformation and spirituality.

Pluto is at the galactic center from January 2006 through Fall 2007. We will feel its intensity for this entire period. It is 248 years since it was last in this location. It was exact December 29, 2006, just after winter solstice. In 2007 it will be exact on July 17, and October 28, with the next most powerfully felt period from mid-July through late October. There is the potential for many people to cross-over during this time.

So what does this mean to everyone?

At its present position you are able to see its effect as governmental deceptions are uncovered, and truths are revealed. We are also witnessing transformations in people who would normally make few or no changes. It is no coincidence that the International Astronomical Union has chosen a time when Pluto is so powerful globally, to downgrade from planet status to dwarf planet status (The decision was made by only 5% of the world's professional astronomers in 2006). Are they subconsciously feeling too much pressure to change too quickly? So what effect does this demotion have on astrology? According to most astrologers:

Pluto will continue its influence on people, events and mass consciousness. It is worth noting that both Ceres (discovered in 1801) and Xenia (discovered in 2005) have been upgraded to dwarf planets. Are they now going to work with Pluto to bring in the energies in a less intense and more acceptable way? Was the downgrading of Pluto an outward sign of humanity having great difficulty looking at and dealing with the darker side of our nature?

We no longer have a choice in how long we take to get around to facing these issues. Pluto, together with the present increase in earth's vibration, will force you to bring up everything you have been trying to hide, or put off, including all those repressed emotions, in order to enable you to see and transform everything that has not been working for you. This is potentially a very uncomfortable time for most people and world governments alike. For those who resist, it will feel like they are at the bottom of a dark pit struggling to get out. But, for those that use these energies and work to transform themselves, the results can be very rewarding: increased feelings of freedom and joy with more energy, success and ease in everyday living.

Although intense, this time offers the potential of amazing change. It is more important than ever to let go of your resistance. Surrender to what you are being shown, embrace this and allow yourself to act differently in order to move out of those patterns that have been holding you back. Look at your shadow side with openness and honesty. In this way you will not only help heal yourself, you will also help heal the world and everyone around you. Transformation is very necessary at this time if we want to experience joy and improved quality of life in our future. Pluto is sitting on the galactic centre making sure we each play our part during this time of intense change. Allow Pluto to assist you in removing the blocks which are preventing your spiritual evolution.
