

SHINE with LOVE from the INSIDE Out

Dearly Beloveds

What A Time of Timelessness this is. As step by step, a new life unfolds around and within you. NOW Moments - energizing and quickening NEW Moments! As your planet spins with new light, and spirals new codes of transformation into its internal circuitry, you likewise do the same. You felt the magic of infinite possibilities as 2007 wove impossible dreams into reality. We say it was not just the year itself that created such events. You would be wise to share in the credit of such wonder. Consider who you are...consider how you leaped over hurdles that would have stopped you short in the past. Consider how the 'child within' remembers and experiences the joy of resurrecting once again. It is the children that will rise up and accelerate solutions to the complex dissident patterns created on your planet. The children are the ones who will resonate new vibrations of such healing love, everything will be simplified and affected. Small hands reaching out...little feet moving with intention, step by step, in a labyrinth of new creation. A lifeline labyrinth of peaceful negotiations where everyone is a winner. Keep our words close to your heart. This is not a time to look over your shoulder for the wee ones to be your saviour...it is a time to look within for the small child that resides there already. The spirit of your small child you tucked away along with your dreams and an unyielding determination to allow them to come true. As your body and mind grew with responsibility and common sense, the heart of your child-self faded into the deepest archives of your soul. Yet NOW is the time for family reunions, and the child within are reaching out, for permission to return and inspire you once again. Remember the joy of laughter while playing in the sandbox. Where everything was possible with the scoop of a shovel, a few drops of water and eager hands working together to sculpt before your very eyes, the manifestation of your vision. IMAGINE ..the gentle peaceful child rising up within everyone, regardless of their age. IMAGINE hands of the ancient children joining together as ONE with the small supple fingers of a new-born and their siblings.

This year of your 2008 - a year of the infinity - layers itself within itself into a multifaceted structure that is also the ONE. Your ONE number appears when you add your 2008 together which equals 10 which reduces to 1. Thus the first day of your year is a 111...ONE ONE ONE...Ah yes, let that thought serve you to know that you are blessed right from the very beginning of 2008. That day will be a most powerful day of revelation and creation. A foundation for ALL that will follow. By the time this reaches your eyes, we will have created a CRYSTAL LABYRINTH of LIFE, on that day. It will already be serving you as you read this. What a LOVELY surprise. Your day of Jan 11 2008 then becomes a 1:11:1 or a 1111. This is a fantastic follow up and a purposeful time to ready yourselves for the 8:8:8 this summer of your time. Be prepared to reach out and accept the good coming your way. Then stretch yourself beyond grateful acceptance into positive expectance.

The crystalline labyrinths of creation are returning into your lives, transforming the mazes that were allowed to take their place eons ago. Consider the difference, dearly beloveds. The labyrinth is a perfectly guided pathway weaving in and out like a divine dance, designed with support so that every curve creates a new possibility. A labyrinth that is impossible to get lost, for the pathway is very clear and precise yet still allowing space for personal expression. A pathway of light that guides you through its corridors into a treasured sacred sanctuary...then...just as graciously it guides you back out again. You emerge expanded, revived and full of love. A maze is very different. It is full of dead ends, confusing and upsetting, a place where one can lose themselves with small hope of finding the way. Do you see the outrageous similarity with life on planet earth?

This is a year of clarity...a year to dismantle the mazes within and without, a precious opportunity to call forth the crystalline child within and begin anew! The wheels of LIGHT are now in Motion, bless them as they continue to roll.

LOVE LOVE LOVE...it ALL-ways comes back to LOVE. Love your brothers, love your sisters, love your mothers, and your fathers and all the things around you. Love the children, love yourself...love like you BELIEVE in everything you say and do.

How deLIGHTful you are in your earthly innocence. What a treasure to the ALL. Thus We are pleased to be in your service, as fragments of ancient rememberings are re woven within the 'ALL that ever was or will be', The Infinity of The NOW.

The Grand Council of LIGHT and THE 999 are an energetic source of inspiration and transformation, from beyond the vibrational realms of sound, light and colour. They are currently orchestrating energetic events to assist and accelerate the process of recoding the crystalline structure within a gentle and loving manner. "We are not here to do it for you, we are here on an ancient contract to assist you to remember the patterns of how to do it yourself." www.LIGHTonLIGHT.net
