

The Power of Love - The Wings of The Dove - Allelujah

If you have paid any attention over the past years to 'the talk' that goes on around you, you will have no doubt heard flutterings of the DOVE word popping in from all angles. For some it appears to be a 'code' word of sorts - the problem is, you usually don't know what the code is for. For others it brings back old memories of the 'Holy Ghost' flying in the form of a bird, or when the ghost transformed into 'spirit'. It was the bird that fascinated you... hovering over altars with rays of light streaming from its wings. The stories go on from different sources but the sweet white bird continues to be an icon for peace and a sign of hope around the world.

If your attention was caught by the illustration on the proceeding page, you may recognize it as one from the book, 'The Keys of Enoch'... published in 1977 by JJ Hurtak. /www.keysofenoch.org/ According to that book there will come a time when the people of Light will return, bringing a new era of peace to the land and the pattern of the dove will activate the North Americas. In terms of the Dove picture, and others of the 12 points of a world energy grid, Vancouver Island and Nova Scotia are considered to be #6 & #9 of the 12, while serving a dual purpose as key locations on the wings of the Dove. Note that the water, the stones and crystals will also play an important role in the process. Other sources have varying degrees of the same story. We are not saying this is true. But since many of you ask us about 'this dove stuff', we are showing you the drawing so you can see for yourself.

What we do align our thoughts with, is the concept that North America and its people have the potential to be leaders in bringing peace and love to the world. We do believe in the power of water to shift and move and literally change its crystalline patterns when under the positive influence of people as co-creators. We printed photos of that years ago and there is plenty to educate you at <http://www.masaru-emoto.net>

In terms of our little part of heaven here on earth, we know we have lots of water and plenty of rocks. As for Canada, Vancouver Island plays a key role in holding that precise vibration of loving light - a vessel of the heart. Nova Scotia on the East Coast of the Atlantic Provinces, emits a power of Peace that is unparalleled. It is a place where music rules the roost and the people are not afraid to sing and dance even when they are 90. That is the sound... vibration... the communication tools of great healing.

The power of the Dove is an expression to denote that concept of peace and love and its ability to expand swiftly, easily and with grace... a power that is capable of getting places another form could not... a gentle messenger bringing good news and hope and a sense of freedom for all - not just a few but for everyone. The dove is a sign from 'the god within' that you are indeed alive and well and capable of rising up and flying with purpose again.

Energetically right now on planet earth, there is a quiet movement happening. That which was stagnant is slowly beginning to circulate again. People who have been hiding from their own goodness are feeling proud of who they are. Compassion is on the upsurge and the sheer dynamics of this year, 2009 (being an 11) is supporting as many positive decisions as we are brave enough to make. That elusive power of transformation does not have to be destructive, as many would lead you to believe. Why would that be so, we ask you? How could it, if we truly believe in the power of our loving thoughts, the proof the water gives us of the miracle of prayer and words spoken with intention. If we believe, how could we not join the ranks of all the independent people co-creating a transformative process that eventually includes everyone? One powered by a peaceful vibration that becomes a motor to serve the world. I am even more sure of what I say, if you take a moment to listen to the young people peacefully coming together and finding solutions to many of the words problems. Check out www.FreeTheChildren.com/weday/vancouver. I believe we are the ones we have been waiting for and everyday the sun wakes up, so does 'someone out there some where' and the wheels turn... and the dove coos... and every heart can open to the sound.... Allelujah !
