Indeed we welcome you to times of brilliant light in this year of outrageous transformation. We would observe that those of you who are sensitive to energy as it spirals upward for the good of all have been feeling very excited at this time. Of course that is because there was a monumental shift in energy on planet Earth during your days of Easter and many of you participated in events as the vibration within around and above your Mother Earth accelerated. All around your planet from the bottom of your water to the tops of your mountains the word is out...you are living now in an accelerated time/space of no-time and no-space...where that silent space of creation between your breath rises up to serve you. Your crystalline bodies are reprogramming at the speed of light as is the crystalline structure of the planet...thus your interaction as a unit has far reaching potential.

It truly is imperative if you wish to activate and resonate with that golden healing light within you that you clear away all of the clutter currently fragmenting your personal lives. From your physical cupboards to your inner closets, it is time to choose freedom for your body, mind and spirit. Oh how the energetics within you are preparing and aligning with your ultimate divine source. All around you see the results of the domino effect of miracle making. Surely when you seize the opportunity to believe in who you really are-see and feel the magnificent codes of light that you carry, you will be in awe of your very self. It truly is time to reprogram everything in your world and this is the year to do so.

For those of you who remember the 12 sites on your planet that held key energetic positions during the 2003 harmonic concordance awakening of the star times, you will be interested to know that this year of 2010 =10:10:10 is another time when those sites once again claim and hold a key position on planet Earth.

You will note that many of these places are small and island-like, as is this one of your own. There are good reasons for that depending on the role they play. However, like yourselves, if you cooperate, they are able to maintain a powerful concentrated vibration that holds a resonance much larger than itself. It would be similar to your compressed files or concentrated cleaners, or precious oils, when you only use a few drops rather than a whole cupful. It would seem a pity to waste or squander such precious gifts but more truly... it allows a greater resonance to fill up the planet quickly when specific places and people hold much beyond their perceived share. It is perfect and precisely the way the design was constructed. Consider it like your laptop computers. Two may look the same in size but one would have more power and memory/energy to complete tasks at a quicker pace..

A larger reason why we say to you there is no point fussing about your 2012 projections of disaster is because of the importance of this year. If you do what you need to do, your prophesies about 2012 will come and go with few incidents, as did the turning over the clocks to 2000 (save for some that may be intentional and trick your mind to believe it is a natural occurrence.) At any rate...much of the vibration of your 2012 has already been dif-fused. Perhaps in some minds this mystery of the end of the calendar marked the end of time. However, we would ask you to consider that perhaps there was a bigger plan in place...a plan for great healing and awareness..a concept so outrageous, it could only happen here on Mother Earth. Consider that 2012 showed no experiences beyond it because the whole of the experience would be rewritten before it arrived. It would be impossible to predict thousands of your years ago what exactly you would do with the opportunity,,thus the pages were left blank to ensure there was no miscalculation, How perfect a plan it was; because this year of yours NOW was surely meant to be a time of massive re-coding for the good of all. How many would hear the call? How many would answer? The numbers are beyond your dreams... How divine!

You have been advised from many information sources aside from our own, that many of you are alive on Mother Earth at this time with great intention. It is a time when love and peace and joy and positive abundance were meant to BE the way of the new times. With a critical number of people focused and dedicated in service to themselves as individuals and to the whole - you can be the miracle workers you set out to be eons ago.
