Greetings!

As we go to press with this edition of the directory, many agree that we are in a most amazing time of our lives.

Surely a time of challenges, of completions and serendipitous events all rolled into one. A time when we have the ability to rise up and stretch beyond our deepest fears...into a bright future that includes our finest hopes and dreams. Indeed it is a year worthy of preserving even the smallest particle of our success, as we equally embrace all the 'missed moments' that have taught us so much.

It is our deepest wish, that from the beginning of this directory year until the very end, you will find that 'new you' we all know lies hidden deep inside. We believe, within the pages of this growing book, that you will discover others who are able to assist you to explore new ways. People have collected here, willing to shine their light, share their experiences and wisdom, to make your pathway easier to travel. We present them to you, not so they will tell you how to live your life, rather that they may assist you to find the finest facets of who you already are.

Rather than remind you of the unlimited possibilities within this book, we wish to leave you with a thought. This is a year to grow like a wild flower, spontaneously blooming where your finest seeds are planted. A year to show your colours – your brilliance – to see your divine reflection in the mirror of life itself. Let this be the year when we all recognize the power of standing a little taller – together, for the good of all. For without a doubt, we know that a small group of dedicated people can and will change the world!

So let's go back to the basics: stick together, help each other, play fair and love simply for the joy of it. No doubt we will discover, we truly are not alone and in fact — never really were! Enjoy this annual publication, keep it handy – and most of all USE IT.

Blessings and Love Beyond Measure,
The EAGLEeyeONE Production Team
